AT A CEREMONY in the office of General of the Army Dwight Eisenhower, Dr. Cloyd Heck Marvin, President of the University, received the Department of the Army's Award for Exceptional Civilian Service.

General Eisenhower presented the decoration to Dr. Marvin, who was cited for "exceptionally meritorious and distinguished service" as Deputy Director and Acting Director of Research and Development for the War Department from September 18, 1946 to August 31, 1947.

Major General Edward F. Witsell, Adjutant General, read the citation, which noted the "unusual accomplishments" of the educator in "organizing and coordinating research and development activities of the War Department and integrating this program with civilian science."

In regard to Dr. Marvin's work, the citation reads, "he contributed immeasurably to the national defense program. He devised new methods of analyzing and improving the program, and has inspired others by his unselfishness, high ideals, and enthusiasm."

Secretary of the Army Kenneth C. Royall, Lieutenant General J. Lawton Collins (Deputy Chief of Staff), and Major General Henry S. Aurand, recently designated to head the Service, Supply and Procurement Division of the Army, were also present.

"Agamemnon" To Feature Modern Dance

WITH INTER-DEPARTMENTAL collaboration, the forthcoming University Players' production of "Agamemnon" will be an all-University project.

The Modern Dance group, under the direction of Miss Elizabeth Burtner, member of the physical education department, will depict the triumphant return of Agamemnon from Troy.

Settings in the Greek tradition will be designed by Donald C. Kline of the art department.

To be presented in Lisner Auditorium on March 12 and 13, the Greek tragedy is under the direction of Dr. Natalie White, instructor in the speech department.

"First of Aeschylus' trilogy, from which Eugene O'Neill adapted his play, "Mourning Becomes Electra," the tragedy was translated by Miss Edith Hamilton, one of the greatest contemporary Greek scholars.

Miss Hamilton, a resident of Washington, has adapted "Agamemnon" for modern staging by the University Players.

USES Aids University Graduates

PLACEMENT OF graduating students in jobs for which they have been trained is the purpose of an expanded program undertaken by the University Placement Office in collaboration with the United States Employment Service.

All students who expect to leave the University at the end of this semester, either as graduates or for any other reason, should register now at the Placement Office, Columbian House. Students who plan to continue attending classes at night may also register.

Arrangements have been made to place on the National Roster of the USES National Clearing House the names of those graduates with professional qualifications and scientific positions in government and private industry that might go unfilled if entirely dependent on employees from a local labor force. The system affords the graduate a much wider breadth of contacts than would otherwise be possible.

In addition to its function as a means of registration for suitable employment, the USES offers counseling for the applicant concerning his best utilization in the labor market, and maintains accurate information on the labor market throughout the country.

Weddells Bequeath $10,000 To University

ALEXANDER WEDDELL

UNDER THE WILLS of former ambassador and Mrs. Alexander W. Weddell, who were killed in a New Year's Day train wreck in Missouri, the University is to receive ten thousand dollars.

Similar amounts were bequeathed to four other colleges and universities. Those schools benefiting are the College of William and Mary, Hampden-Sydney, the University of Richmond, and the rector and board of visitors of the University of Virginia.

Mr. Weddell graduated from the University in 1908, and served as an alumni member of its Board of Trustees from 1943 until 1947. Because of his distinguished career as a diplomat, the University conferred upon him, during the June Commencement Exercises in 1942, the Alumni Award for achievement in Diplomacy and for service to the University.

Mrs. Weddell was the donor of the Alexander W. Weddell Prize, awarded annually to the University student who writes the best essay on the subject of "the promotion of peace among the nations of the world."

In the words of General Ulysses S. Grant III, vice-president of the University, "Theirs were lives of service, to their community as well as to the Nation, and the University was privileged to share in the results of this service. In their deaths we all have suffered a great loss."

The Virginia Historical Society, of which Weddell was president, will receive the bulk of the estates. The Society was willed $100,000 from each estate, as well as the furnishings, books, tapestries, and other art objects in the Weddells' Virginia home. All money not otherwise bequeathed is to be held in trust for the Society.

Christmas Cards Bring Happiness To Young Patients

Are you and your family one of the many who still have something that looks like tons of Christmas cards lying around the house? If so, here's a good way to get rid of them, and, at the same time, bring a lot of extra happiness to the kids who are patients at Children's Hospital.

Mr. A. E. Smith, Corcoran 101-A, is collecting all of the donations and will see that they are delivered to the kiddies. Last year's notice brought thousands of cards, and they were still being delivered late into the year.

This is indeed a worthy contribution, and it won't take much to gather up your cards and bring them down to Corcoran. Please do not bring the envelopes. The children use only the cards, the tinfoil, etc., for cutting their paper dolls. Tell your neighbors about it, too. Every card means a little more fun for the kids, so round up all that you can.

University Chapel Changes To Friday

BECAUSE OF TWO many conflicts of schedule, the weekly University Chapel services have been changed from Thursday to Friday at 12:10 p.m. at the Western Presbyterian Church, located on H Street between 19th and 20th Streets.

In making the change, Dr. Folke, head of the new Department of Religion, expressed the hope that more students and faculty members would find it possible to attend Chapel services.

MR. BEN L. TUFTS, Veterans' Administration Training Specialist, requests that those student-veterans currently enrolled under Public Law 16 (Vocational Rehabilitation Act for Disabled Veterans) who failed to register on January 2 and 3 for the Winter term, should see him on January 30 at the University Gymnasium before completing their registration.

Spanish Teachers Re-elect Doyle For Three Years

DEAN HENRY G. DOYLE of Columbian College, was reelected for a three-year term as editor of "Hispania," the quarterly journal of the American Association of Teachers of Spanish and Portuguese at the annual meeting of the Association, held during the holidays in Detroit.

The Worm Turns

• NOTE TO THE ADMINISTRATION: Latest among the plans to make college education as effective as possible is a system being inaugurated at the University of Michigan. The plan, outlined below, will, in the opinion of the Editors, bear watching by the Administration. Should results warrant it, its adoption might be seriously considered by the University.

Expected to go into effect on an experimental basis during the current academic year, the plan calls for student ratings of instructors and courses, as well as judgment of faculty service by faculty committees from each teaching department. Results of such evaluations of teaching, research, administration, and public service are to be available to the faculty members themselves and also to University personnel officers.

"Successful teaching is to be regarded as a primary factor in the new evaluation system," a report by the Committee on College Problems points out. "It is a first obligation of an educational institution to provide good teaching and encourage proper advisory relationships between a teacher and his students."

In addition to the student ratings of instruction and course content, the evaluation of a faculty member's teaching effectiveness will include information concerning enrollment and grades in his classes, teaching activities outside the classroom, and reports of colleagues and counselors.

Students will be asked to "grade" their instructors according to a printed form distributed in the classroom at the end of the semester. These rating forms ask the students to check the quality of instruction under such headings as "clarity of assignments, presentation of subject matter, success in keeping students alert in class, availability for consultation with students." Each student will also be asked to rate the course, regardless of the quality of instruction.

Students will fill out these rating forms anonymously. The information on them will be given to the faculty evaluation committees, and to the instructor for his own study.

The plans obviously will offer a chance for favor-

Letters To The Editor

January 11, 1947

Dear Editors:

What does this University mean to America? What is going to be the role of our students in The Future America? The answer to these questions may be found in the Play, The Good Road, and the general program of Moral Re-armament. Here is an ideology that is as strong, stronger, than communism.

The materialism of man destroyed world isolation before the world was ready to be integrated. Materialism has developed the Atomic Bomb, which is definitely here to stay. Therefore the problem does not lie in the Atomic Bomb, but rather in human nature. The evils of human nature have got to be changed. Our war-like leaders must be held in check. The only way to hold these leaders in check is to change the world organization until it becomes a workable one.

I wish that the student body of the University could have seen The Good Road, because I can't adequately describe the complete unselfishness, the look of new hope and faith in the eyes of Europeans, the absolute co-operation of the cast.

My only hope is that President Marvin will request the cast to bring back The Good Road and play to the student body, as we young people are seeking, searching, for something, some way of life that will exemplify the ideals of democracy, and I believe that Moral Re-armament has the answer.

Dwight Geer Worden
President of Freshman Class

Guest Editorial

• For many years the weekly University Chapel has been a spiritual tradition at the George Washington University. It has been one of the few opportunities for professors and students together, through the years, to unite their hearts in worship and direct their minds toward great spiritual truths.

Out of the stimulus of vital religious faith in God, this University was founded. By the industry of consecrated, spiritually minded leaders, associates, and trustees it was nourished and developed. By the constant recognition and acceptance of the supremacy of spiritual values its influence will most deeply be felt in this country and throughout the world.

The Chapel is a living symbol of this rich University heritage. It does not shout for recognition, but with serene dignity and reverence lifts its sacred head and beckons to all to come. For the weary it offers rest, for the troubled peace of mind, for the confused knowledge that will not pass away, for the enquiring an ever-flowing source of divine wisdom.

It is your Chapel and mine. Treasure it and remember that "where your treasure is there will your heart be also."

able as well as unfavorable comment. In addition to uncovering the more inept and unpopular professors, it will offer recognition to professors who are doing a good job so quietly that no one outside their students realized it.

The system, of course, may be a bitter pill for some professors, who do not recognize that their knowledge of a subject does not, per se, qualify them to teach it effectively, or give students the guidance they need.

The Editors do not recommend an immediate adoption of the plan. They do, however, recommend a careful evaluation of the results achieved by the system, and an honest and courageous decision as to its use at the University.

It's On The Record

• TRISTAN UND ISOLDE was the subject of a recent Columbia release. The popular "Love Duet" is sung by Helen Traubel, as Isolde, and Torsten Ralf, as Tristan, with Herta Glaz singing the brief "Brangaene's Warning." Miss Traubel is, of course, quite at home in this role and has been recorded with fidelity. Mr. Ralf, on the other hand, seems to sound a bit worse each time we hear him, and he is hardly competent as Tristan. Miss Glaz has not the most appealing voice but manages what she does have fairly well. This album supplements Miss Traubel's earlier recording for Columbia in which she sings "Isolde's Narrative" and the moving "Liebestod." RCA-Victor has two pressings of the "Love Duet" listed in its catalog—a rather early version by Frieda Lieder and Lauritz Melchior, which is quite good but rarely obtainable, and the Flagstad-Melchior interpretation which is also quite good even if the orchestra is relegated too far into the background.

Bethoven's Third Symphony (the Eroica), was recorded by Dr. Serge Koussevitzky and the Boston Symphony for RCA-Victor. The recording is spacious and clear and is quite an improvement, technically, over the conductor's earlier version. It may well be considered the best of the recordings available today.

Tchaikovsky's Nutcracker Suite is given a rather emotional interpretation by the popular Andre Kostelanetz. The recording is fine. It seems to us, however, that there is no need for another recording of this work at the present time as both the Rodzinski and Ormandy versions are available. Ormandy, of course, is to be preferred.

The Boston "Pops" Orchestra apparently dug into its archives rather deeply for a change and came forth with several dances from the Nutcracker Ballet. These are relatively unfamiliar to American audiences, and should be welcomed by all disciples of Tchaikovsky.

Puccini's Tosca provided an outlet for the vocal talents of James Melton, such as they are, in the form of the two popular arias "Recondita Armonia" and "E lucevan le stelle." These tenor warhorses find their way into most recital programs and are always well received. Mr. Melton's interpretations leave one a little flat, however, in view of the superlative Bjorling of Gligli renditions.

James C. Petrillo has invoked his ban on recording. The real impact of his act will probably not be felt by the man on the street for six months or so because of the backlog accumulated by the various recording companies. Then it will be necessary for them to repress older discs, unless a satisfactory agreement can be reached. This will prove somewhat of a boon to record collectors who have been trying in vain for so long to obtain many of the older interpretations which are re-catalogued time after time but never "in stock."

• PENTHOUSE SERENADE (Musicraft). Sarah Vaughn, always good, is up to par on this old favorite. Lover Man and Body And Soul, all on different records, further demonstrate her well-loved vocal style.

You Do (Mercury) and its mate Angela Mia prove little except that Vic Damone can be just as syrupy as half a dozen other male singers and nothing more.

The Gentleman Is A Dope (Columbia). Good lyrics plus Dinah Shore's vocal make this another fine song to add to the list of hits from "Allegro."

Ballerina (RCA Victor). This is one of the finest songs to come out in a long while and seems to be well suited to Vaughn Monroe's style. It is backed by another hit, The Stars Will Remember. Enric Madriguera has also recorded Ballerina for Decca. His arrangement is unusual and very good.

Let's Put Out the Lights (Columbia) is the title song of a new album by Jane Russell. Yes, really, Jane Russell, and her style is good, believe it or not. Body And Soul, I Must Have That Man, Two Sleepy People are some other numbers in the album besides the title song.

The Whistler Song (RCA Victor). Tommy Dorsey does as well as could be done with something as awful as this. The reverse, I Met My Baby In Macy's, is a little better.

I'm Looking Over A Four Leaf Clover (MGM). Art Mooney's new release is a rhythmic number and probably will be heard a great deal. The other side, The Big Brass Band From Brazil is less good.

Loaded Pistols, Loaded Dice (RCA Victor) is very much like Darktown Poker Club and will do just as well. It is backed by You've Hurt My Southern Pride. Both are good Phil Harris arrangements.

Manhattan Serenade (Columbia). This reissue by Harry James and Helen Forrest is just as good as ever and is making a fast return to popularity.

Alumni Get Scientific Recognition

FIVE GRADUATES of the University and a former member of the University staff have been named by the "Chemical Bulletin" to a roll call of the "ten ablest chemist and chemical engineers" now working in the United States in each of 20 specialized fields.

Vincent Du Vigneaud, formerly head of the Department of Biochemistry at the University, was named a specialist in Biological Chemistry.

Alumni of the University were named in the following fields: Agricultural and food chemistry, Orville E. May of Coca-Cola Company, A.B. '24, M.S. '26 and Ph.D. '29; Klare S. Markley of Southern Regional Laboratory, B.S. in Chemical Engineering, '24, M.S. in chemistry, '25; Aaron L. Mehrling of the Department of Agriculture, A.B. '32; Raymond M. Hann, National Institute of Health, B.S. in chemistry, with distinction, '25, M.S. '26; and W. W. Pigman, Institute of Paper Chemistry, B.S. '32 and A.M. '33.

The scientists named were selected by means of a reader poll, with each reader voting in his own field of chemical activity. An editorial in the "Bulletin," a publication of the Chicago Section of the American Chemical Society, said that this apparently was the first time chemists and chemical engineers had received public recognition of this type. The editorial pointed out that only scientists are able to appraise scientific work, that "the attempts of businessmen to judge even their own scientists are pathetic."

Graduate Women Hear Balletseros On Mexican Policy

THE UNIVERSITY chapter of Phi Delta Gamma, national fraternity for graduate professional women, met January 11 to discuss United States relations with Mexico.

Mr. Balletseros, First Secretary of the Mexican Embassy in Charge of Protocol, was guest speaker. He developed the theme, "The Culture of Mexico as an agent for continuing and extending the existing tie of friendship between the United States and Mexico."

Mr. Balletseros discussed Mexican culture, economic development, the Good Neighbor Policy, initiated in the time of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt, and the contributions of Mexico to the advancement of modern civilization.

The Mexican government, Mr. Balletseros emphasized, is staffed with experts in every field. In an effort to increase the literacy rate, each person who is able to read and write is required to teach at least one illiterate person, he said.

Church Installs French Minister

DR. PIERRE C. TOURELLE, minister of the French congregation, which meets every Sunday afternoon at four o'clock at St. John's Episcopal Church, 18th and H Streets, has just arrived from France, where he is well-known as a religious scholar as well as a parish minister.

His service of installation will be held Sunday, 18 January, at the four o'clock service, to be followed by a reception in the Parish Hall at five o'clock.

All students of French are welcome.

Follies Auditions Held This Week

TALENT AUDITIONS for the Freshmen Follies of 1948 will be held in Room C of Columbian House January 13, 14, and 15 from 7 to 9 p.m. and January 14 and 16 from 3 to 5 p.m.

Warner Names Appointees To Band Jobs

NEW APPOINTMENTS in the University Band organization have been announced by Band President William Warner, effective this week.

James Roamer has been named business manager; Wallace Winters, office manager; John Graves, social chairman; and Ardith Jeffries, publicity director.

Band members relaxed between rehearsals on Friday night, January 2, at their second annual informal party at the Pi Kappa Alpha Fraternity House. Official hosts Bill Warner, Bill Brooks, and Jim Roamer saw to it that everyone had his fill of fun and refreshments.

A feature of this party that differed from last year's picnic at Sligo Cabin, Maryland, was an itinerant dance band composed of University Band members who took turns at the piano, trumpet, clarinet, saxophone, trombone, and drums, providing continuous dance tempos throughout the evening.

Director Leon Brusloff was noticeably absent from the party. Mr. Brusloff sent regrets from New York City, where he was one of the many snowbound victims of the recent blizzard.

Wednesday night's home basketball game against the University of Virginia Cavaliers saw the initial appearance of the University Basketball Band—a more compact unit than the Football Band.

The Band will play for the remaining home games at the National Guard Armory, and it is anticipated that half-time will be show-time, featuring singers, dancers, and comedy acts for the enjoyment of the spectators.

Director Brusloff will hold auditions for half-time acts every Sunday at 4:30, following regular band rehearsal, in Studio A of Lisner Auditorium.

Debating Society Holds First Meet With Pennsylvania

CHARLES LILLIAN and Henry Krebs represented the University in the first of the Forensic Society's intercollegiate debate ventures with the University of Pennsylvania. The question at hand was, "Resolved: That a Federal World Government Should Be Established." Dean Elmer Louis Kayser acted as chairman in the non-decision debate.

Ten minute constructive speeches by each of the four contestants were followed by five minute rebuttals. Venlo Wolfsohn and Bruce Underwood represented the University of Pennsylvania.

The Forensic Society hopes to organize debating teams within the University among independent students, as well as Greeks. Independent students interested in such a program should contact Al Ezrine through Professor Henigan's office in Room 3, Lisner Auditorium, extension 294.

Plans are now pending with the Inter-fraternity Council for the organization of debating teams among fraternities.

MR. ANYMAN points to the Good Road as the all-clear highway anyone can travel, in this scene from the musical revue, "The Good Road."

Those Loathesome Exams Are Looming on the Horizon

By MARY ABBE

WHAT IS MORE repulsive than the thought of final exams? What else can throw one into such a state of loss and despair as those loathesome, mimeographed demons called finals? And what comes of them all—just a nondescript slip of paper with a lot of mumbo-jumbo about Bachelor of so-and-so and Doctor of something-or-other to display with pride to grand-children in future years.

Nonetheless, the determined student begins the New Year with firm resolutions about studying eighteen hours a day, going without dates, and generally settling into a mole-like existence. He was going to get that chemistry down cold—yeah, sure. French shouldn't be too hard to knock off; with a bit of study there's an A in English and Psych too. Of course reading several hundred pages of biology, getting Joe Schomoe's notes, and memorizing thousands of names for history presents a small problem. If only a labor bill could put thirty hours in a day!

After five minutes' study the groveling peasant gets strategic and begins calculating what "old man Snodgrass" will probably give on his final. Without doubt, this is the best way. So after carefully planning each exam his professors will give, he faithfully memorizes the data and feels some of the burden lifted from his spirit.

By the time the last clew dawns, the unfortunate student bears all the symptoms of exam fatigue and book-formitis, tempered by a "What the H—" attitude. Who cares about the Age of Pericles and the Carolingian miniscule? Who ever heard of Isidore of Seville or Augustine of Hippo anyway? He doesn't care if the United States has 96 senators or one million and one.

It seems as if the most ominous of black clouds hangs over the heads of the martyred student; everywhere he goes, it follows him while a voice keeps repeating, "Only four days left until finals!" He has nightmares, smokes incessantly, loses weight, and effects the vacant stare characteristic of the learned. On occasion he joins the faithful attending Chapel, to pray his way through it possible.

Inevitably, he will spend the last few nights sitting up in his little cell, with the support of coffee and Turkish cigarettes, struggling to assimilate this mass of facts before the hateful day, the dreaded hour arrives. The thought crosses his mind to give up and take off for Florida, but no! He must be strong. Armed with rabbits' feet and lucky charms, he will go to meet his fate come what may.

Cheering up, he ponders over that glorious SOMEDAY when, as president of the world's largest brewery, he'll be GLAD, I tell you. HAPPY, that he went through all this.

Dreese Announces Veteran Directions

DR. MITCHELL DREESE today urged all student veterans to follow closely the printed directions given them on pre-registration days, January 2 and 3.

Dr. Dreese states that the Veterans' Education Office at 2029 H St. will be open Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m.; Thursdays until 7:30 p.m.; and Saturdays from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Book and supply requisitions will be approved at Columbian House between February 2 and 7. Prior to these dates, requisitions will be approved at the Veterans' Education Office. Activity books and program slips must be presented for approval of requisitions.

Duplicate program slips can be obtained from January 28 to 29. All book and supply requisitions must be approved before.

Good Road Presents Solution

By JIM REISCH

SINCERELY BELIEVING that the fundamental concepts of Christianity are the answer to the problems confronting the world, a cast of 275 presented their simple plan of action at a repeat performance, in Lisner Auditorium, Friday evening and Saturday afternoon and evening.

"The Good Road," a musical review conceived and created by the Moral Re-Armament organization at international assemblies at Mackinac Island, Michigan, and at Caux, Switzerland, is an attempt to convince the American people that a change in everyday life is the first and most important step toward the achievement of world security.

"The Good Road" successfully accomplishes its purpose in presenting a simple ideology to a materialistic, atom-bomb conscious American public—and the message sticks!

Whatever may be lacking in professional talent is outweighed by the sincerity of almost a hundred European refugees who know, believe, and live the message they so colorfully portray. Effective staging, impressive lighting techniques, and above all, the true inspiration of these people appeals to the average American, who is portrayed as "Anyman."

No patriotic vehicle, this—no building of Anyman's ego because he is an American—but a pointing out of Anyman's obligation as a citizen of the world—an obligation which starts with himself, his family, and his immediate circle of friends.

It is difficult for an American to, wholly accept such a philosophy, perhaps because he is already more advanced in these lines of thought than some other peoples.

Saturday's performances were certainly convincing attempts to help Americans realize that their choice of "The Good Road" may be the beginning of the brilliant world union that today is the dream of the Democracies.

Doctor Christian Discusses Methods Of Script Writing

A PRIZE of $2000 is offered by the Chesebrough Manufacturing Company, sponsor of the weekly Dr. Christian radio series, in its seventh annual competition for the Dr. Christian Award. The prize has been awarded each year to the writer of the best script that is submitted. A full year's supply of scripts will be purchased from among the entries. Competition is open to all writers, amateur and professional. Entries must be submitted between January 7 and February 29.

True-to-life situations and few sound effects are the essence of good radio writing, according to Jean Hersholt, star of the Dr. Christian show.

"If you are a new writer," says Mr. Hersholt, "write about things and people that you know. Natural easy dialogue, clear-cut characters, few scenes, fewer sound effects—these are what count in successful radio plays. And remember, the essence of any story is suspense. There must be doubt as to the outcome to the very end."

Details of the competition's rules may be obtained by writing to Dr. Christian Award of 1948, 50 Rockefeller Plaza, New York 20, New York.

• JUST TO PROVE that the corn grows tall and thick way out yonder in Iowa, here's a joke I got out of the University of Dubuque's paper:

Once there was a very famous Indian by the name of Short Cake. When he died, all the young braves were arguing about who should have the honor of burying him. At last his squaw came to them and said, "Squaw bury Short Cake."

• BORROWED FROM HERE AND THERE:

Some people have no respect for age—unless it's bottled.

BACHELOR—a man who thinks that the only thoroughly justified marriage was the one that produced him.

The reason the average girl would rather have beauty than brains is because the average man can see better than he can think.

• A CLEMSON COLLEGE student wrote the following poem:

PRAYER TO THE EARTH GOD

Brown Earth, emerging as a griffled hermit from out his lair; whose sleep-dimmed eyes seek promise in the Spring; whose countenance glows with pleasure as the Zephyrs with elfin fingers stroke his hair:

Oh, Earth! Cast off thine umber robe;
Lay bare thy breast to sun!
Receive God's boon which is thy due;
Thy work has now begun.

Drink deep of bubbling snow-born streams;
Break fast with bread of Life.
Give hope to men who war-torn years
Have marked with scars of strife.

Give men the heart to face their task;
To fill the fields of gore;
To plant the seeds of Human love;
To battle nevermore.

Under The Axe

By JEAN FERGUSON

• HATCHET AND CHERRY Tree Editors, staff members, and casual visitors are all rapidly coming down with pneumonia as the result of another heatless week-end. We don't mind working a fifty-hour week, plus classes (plug) but we would like to have our fingers warm enough to type with. Does our hospitalization cover oxygen tents?

• TASSELS HAS SO far sent enough money for ten CARE packages, and is very pleased with results to date. If you haven't yet given, it is one of the worthier causes sponsored at the University.

• EDITOR BARBARA Borror of the 1947 Cherry Tree is currently elated over the news that the book has finally gone to press and will be released shortly. The only thing we know which is later in coming than the '47 edition is the phone which the Cherry Tree requested a year ago.

• FIRST DANCE for February Graduates was held last Friday, and while it was not comparable to the June Prom, it was definitely a step in the right direction. We've always felt sorry for the neglected February grads, and hope the dance will set a precedent, and become as traditional as the June Prom.

• LOST, STRAYED, OR—One invitation to a White House press conference, held in honor of alumna Margaret Truman. The non-attendance of the editors, caused by the non-receipt of the invitation, plunged us into buckets of hot water. Can't something be done about the mail system (?) about which everyone at the University who depends on it gripes?

• FOGGY BOTTOM Editors wish to extend their thanks to all University students who did not become pinned, engaged, or married over the holidays. Judging from this week's column, practically everybody did.

• THINGS LITERARY—The Surveyor has made its initial appearance on campus as the official student literary magazine. On the whole, the issue was good. Welcome on campus.

• AFTER THIS ISSUE staggers out editors and staff are retiring to their holes to try to do the studying that they should have been doing all semester. If we don't flunk out there will be a meeting for present and prospective staff members on January 28 at 8 p.m. here in the Hatchet Office.

Good Luck !!!

Standing in Line Registration Day

By KEN SHUTE

"BAAHH," SAID THE first sheep. "Bleat," said the second sheep. "Great Scott it's cold," said the third sheep. His name was Sam the Ram. He turned to the ewe behind him. "How do you manage to keep warm with just that bank of wool on?" "Tee Hee," she bleated shyly, "you rams are all alike in your sheep's clothing." Her name was Dew Ewe. "Aw G'wan," he baaed playfully back at her. "How long have we been waiting to see THEM now?" "It's been quite a while," Dew Ewe replied. Her sheepish face became even more so. "Hey Ewe (a Chinese sheep) is in a family way again." "You don't say," said Sam. "Well, you know what they say about..." "Hush now," giggled Dew Ewe. "Hey Ewe has enough troubles as it is. She might even lose her place in line."

"I think the line is moving a little faster though, now that the first eighteen goats have dropped out from exposure. I guess that's the breaks! It wouldn't be so bad if this cold drizzle would let up. I'm soaked to the mutton!" "You should baa," said Dew Ewe. "Just look at my wool since it uncoiled in this rain. I'm beginning to get worried. That English sheeppod at the end of the line has started to make advances."

followed close behind by Tiny Jim the Bulldog. "Growl," said Tiny Jim. "I'll teach you to get in line ahead of all these other sheep. Now get at the end of the line and wait your turn like the rest of these dumb, docile animals." Tiny Jim was appointed Watchdog-Bulldog and was doing a fine job, keeping characters like Cyril the Squirrel from dragging the line (as people would say).

But getting back to Sam the Ram and Dew Ewe, we now find a budding romance: "Yuh know, you're kind of cute," said Sam. The way you waggle your tail when you're happy; and the way your black button nose runs when you're healthy; and, oh, those big, blue, sheepish (we've said it three times, so now it's ours) eyes." "You're quite a ham, Sam the Ram," said Dew Ewe. "but I love you. Let's get married (sheep leap year)."

And so they were married... And later on were blessed with twins (Little Sam and Pam the Lamb)... Who were sent to college... As soon as they were old enough... For an education... Their parents... Never received... Due to a congested registration line.

The twins worked real hard... And as a reward... Finally won... Those coveted sheepskins... ma-ma and pa-pa. Moral: There must be an easier way to register!

Council Continues Exchange

MONTHLY STATEMENTS of the Student Book Exchange were submitted to the Student Council by co-manager Jim Van Story, who announced that the Exchange had completed six months of operation and is in good financial condition.

A suggestion that the Exchange be abolished was not approved by the Council. It was pointed out that the importance of the exchange as a source of inexpensive second hand books can be greatly enhanced, when today's student veterans no longer need their textbooks.

Ed Masters, of the Bulletin Boards Committee reported on activities aimed to keep bulletin boards up to date and orderly. Various means of improvement were discussed, and Masters stated that suggestions would be welcomed by the committee.

Further business covered the planning of forum programs, financial backing of the various class programs of the Council, and the feasibility of changing the meeting time of the Council to an earlier hour on Thursdays.

Women's Outing Club Organizes

Current Affairs Club Discusses Aid To Poland

MR. FELIKS GUSTAW BOCHENSKI, economist with the International Bank of Reconstruction and Development, will speak at the third and last meeting of a series sponsored by the Current Affairs Club on "Economic Aid to Europe: Poland," tonight at 8:15 p.m. in Room 101, Hall of Government.

A graduate of the University of Cracow, Poland, Mr. Bochenski served with the Polish Army, and later became economic adviser to the Polish Ministry of Information in London. After completing a tour of duty as an economist with UNRRA, Mr. Bochenski joined the International Bank in April, 1947.

Mr. Bochenski is expected to emphasize the position of Poland in the economic structure of Europe. In the light of the rift between East and West, he will not speak in an official capacity, but as a private individual.

The talk, which will be followed by an open question forum, is open to all students of the University and their friends.

Manager Society Re-forms

THE SOCIETY FOR the Advancement of Management was re-activated at its initial meeting, held last Friday at 8 p.m. in Government 101.

Students now joining the organization will become the group's charter members. The Society is under the supervision of Dean Frederick M. Felker of the School of Engineering and Dean Richard Owen of the School of Business Administration.

Anyone in these two schools or in The University interested in scientific management relating to accounting, business administration, economics, engineering, law, and statistics is eligible for membership.

Management functions such as public relations, labor relations, employee training, organization, sales engineering, and cost and budget control are in the scope of the organization, first activated at the University in 1943.

Senior Class Dance Skit Forecasts Grads' Futures

"I have been so long in college
I've assimilated knowledge
That isn't cataloged or given in a course;
It concerns the ancient mystery
Of foretelling human history
And I do it now for better or for worse."

WITH THIS introduction, W. H. Johnson, as the Vestal Virgin of the Oracles, forecast the future of the February graduating class when they place themselves under the auspices of Chester Burns and his Senior employment program.

Revelations of things to come were featured, at last Friday's Senior Dance in the Bethesda Women's Club. Almost four hundred Seniors attended this first dance ever held to honor a February graduating class, setting a precedent that may become tradition on the University social calendar.

Graduates of various departments of the University were depicted in their positions of 1958. Alums of modern dance did a torrid samba, a speech major did a "Say, Mabel" at a telephone switchboard, geology majors dissected rocks at Ft. Knox, chemistry grads made bathtub gin, and foreign affairs majors had a slinky "affair with a foreigner."

Among those who participated in the skits were Kathy Colburn, W. H. Johnson, Al Whildin, Milton Smith, Ruth Lampert, Joe Harris, Lew Hoffacker, Bill Wendt, Irvin Knaebel, and Bill Rockwood, who acted as M. C.

Penologist Addresses Gathering

MR. DONALD CLEMMER, Director of the Department of Corrections of the District of Columbia, spoke to the Lester Ward Sociological Society at the University, Wednesday, January 6.

Mr. Clemmer has served as Senior Sociologist of the Illinois Division of Criminology, Assistant Director of the Federal Bureau of Prisons, and Associate Warden at Atlanta Federal Penitentiary. The author of several books and articles in the field of sociology, Mr. Clemmer entitled his off-the-record remarks, "Criminology and Penology."

Following Mr. Clemmer's talk, Frederick Bates gave a brief outline of proceedings at the American Sociological Society conference in New York City during the Christmas holidays. Dr. Harold Loran Geisert, Executive officer of the Department of Sociology, supplemented Bates' remarks.

Others who attended the conference from the University include Helen Bovardi, Marie Chatham, William Montague, Mary Thackalberry, and Dr. Geisert.

Dues for the semester were set at one dollar. Meetings were tentatively scheduled for the second Wednesday of each month.

● WELL NOW THAT things are slightly back to normal, and everyone is almost recuperated from the strenuous holidays, parties, telling all how they were snowed in up in New York, and displaying beautiful Florida sun-tans. Seems very peculiar that so many of those souls in New York got stranded in their respective dates homes.

Anyway, as we were saying or at least about to say, we really don't have the space to tell about all the parties and open-houses that went on here in D. C., but we can say that they were full of the Christmas spirit; at least everyone was full of spirits.

The first item of news is beware to all the members of the feminine sect. Art Matteson is back in town. Nuff said... Evelyn Rickie, DZ, and Ed Dentz, Phi Sig, became engaged the night of the Phi Sig Christmas Dance... Frank Cowie, Sigma Nu, pinned that Kappa pledge Vi Albrecht.

On December 23rd, we heard the ringing of bells as Nancy Hanek, ADPI, and Larry Woodward, SAE, exchanged vows... Lois Ingram, ADPI, and Jim Steidel, SAE, followed suit and did the same thing the next day.

Jim Speaks, Sigma Nu, and Sally Barrow, Kappa, are now engaged... Carol Stout, Theta, is a mighty pleased person as Santa—in the form of Lahr Wyman—gave her a diamond ring for Christmas.

John Spalding, KA, is still recovering from his "Dear John" letter he received from Texas... Rusty Schiff and Leigh Curry, both ISAs, will be united come spring-time... Hal Harrison and Toni Smith were married the 22nd of December... Julian Richards, Sigma Nu, and Pi Phi Polly Kiracof have added their names to the list of engaged persons.

Betty Trucks, DZ, will be married to Harry Coe January 24th... Duane Stuart, Phi Sig, married Dottie Davidson the 12th of December... The PIKA's had an exchange dance with the Kappa's the 4th... Ann Greer, Theta, will be walking up that aisle the first of May.

Kitty Killean, Sigma Kappa, engaged to Jack Lyon... Bill Pollard, KA, gave Ann Hurst, Chi O, a ring for Christmas but as yet we haven't been able to find out the exact status of these two... Betty Walters, KD, will marry Bill Sugg come this 23rd.

Bob Pogue, Sigma Nu, couldn't stay quiet any longer, he had to let everyone know about his being married to Joan Johnson in November. She's the daughter of Walter Johnson of baseball fame... Two ADPI's are displaying their third-finger-left-hand proudly these days; they're Dot Dumont and Barbara Stewart.

Lee Tyree, PPhi pledge, is pinned to a Delta Tau Delta at Minnesota U... Dede Thompson, KD, is wearing a West Point "A" pin... After Basil Mesenes has passed those law school exams, he and Betty Weethee, Theta, will say those "I do" words.

Jay Johnston, KA, and Ginger Elmendorf, Pi Phi, were married before the holidays and spent their honeymoon in Canada during vacation time... Merritt DeLaMater, Sigma Nu, and Betty Ann Zigler are now one.

Johnny Dushberry, Phi Sig, and Fay Rumble, Theta pledge, started the New Year off a pinning... Jim Foley, PIKA, pinned to Jean Eastman... On the 30th of December Peggy Babcock, Pi Phi, and Jerry Brastow, Kappa Sig, announced their engagement.

Johnny Clark, Sigma Nu, now pinned to Claudia Hutchinson of Rollins College... DZ's gave the TKE's and Accacia's a party the 4th... Jim Van Story, KA, and Tisha Calvo, Chi O, are finally engaged... The Pi Phi's had a kitchen shower for Jean Maxwell who will marry Gale Stringham after exam time... Bob Sperry, engineering student, will marry that home-town girl this week.

Susan Syputt, KD, became pinned to Reis Pond, PIKA, New Year's Eve... At the Sigma Chi Christmas Dance Billie Klapp, Kappa, was chosen the Sweetheart of Sigma Chi.

Two more Sigma Nu's became engaged during "the rest"—Jim Hennessey to Mary Barbara Selman of Chambersburg, Pennsylvania, and Dean Corbitt to Pat Sullivan.

Marinel Fletcher was pinned to SAE Bud Hammack... Pat Calloway, Kappa, is engaged to Darrell Cooley, Sigma Chi... A "Peeping Tom" gave Staughton Hall the once over last Tuesday night and brought a friend back with him Saturday night.

Signing off for now and wishing everyone the best of luck with exams.

Yours truly,
Miss Foggy and Mr. Bottom.

Tekes Mark Anniversary With Banquet

MEMBERS of Tau Kappa Epsilon from five different chapters met to celebrate their annual founders' day at Wardman Park Hotel last Saturday night.

Chapters represented at this festive occasion were Gettysburg, University of Pennsylvania, Drexel Institute, University of Maryland, and the University. Honored guests who are members of Tau Kappa Epsilon included Admiral R. G. Williams, Ronald Reagan, Glen Gray, Dr. Wood Gray, and Dean Myron L. Koenig, toastmaster.

The affair began with cocktails at 7:30 p.m. served in the Burgundy Room. The banquet followed, during which the distinguished guests addressed the assembled brothers.

Following the banquet the entire assemblage adjourned to the house of the University (Alpha Pi) chapter at 2003 Columbia Road, N. W., where Tekes songs were sung and memories of old were recalled.

The host Tekes entertained the out-of-town men with stag parties, scenic trips around Washington, and a special trip to the new Tekes chapter house at the University of Maryland.

Buff Bounce Back After First Loss Repeat Wins Over Virginia, Clemson Blue-Devils, Gamecocks This Week

I Cried For You
Now It's Your Turn . . .

By SKIP FOSTER

• HOTTEST NEWS AFFECTING the University's football team stems from up Harvard University way with the announced resignation of head football coach Dick Harlow, due to illness. Speculators agree that coach Skip Stahley is definitely being considered for the berth. Stahley as you know, was assistant coach for six years up there. However, a certain Washington columnist seems to have the "inside dope" that Stahley will surely be back at the University next year to fill out his contract. He is most assuredly assuming then that there's not a chance in a million that Stahley will be offered the Harvard job . . . I predict to my able colleague that not only is there a good chance that Stahley will be offered the position but that if the offer comes through, the University had better dig up one of its old grid immortals to coach next year's squad.

• DISSENSION THAT USUALLY COMES with a losing ball club was vividly portrayed last week with the suspension of Georgetown's scoring ace, Andy Kostecka. The details of the fiasco are old news, however, it is interesting to note the differences of club unity between the Colonials and the Hoyas. True, the Colonials have not faced the same opposition and suffered the same results, but it is very possible and logical that dissension could have infested the Buff ranks after the N.C. State loss. If one considers that this was the most important game on the schedule, and that the "Wolfpack" is one of the few teams on the schedule that offers any top opposition, then the idea takes on increasing credibility. A situation such as this however, I am happy to state, has not developed and I personally think could never develop among the Colonials. The comradeship that exists among the Buffmen is too genuine. The respect that each team members holds for the other is too sincere. And finally, the respect and deep admiration that the entire squad holds for Coach Arthur Zahn is somewhat phenomenal. It is not uncommon to hear one of the boys on the team say that "Otts" is getting better and better all the time . . . He has improved 100 percent over last year . . . And that's going some.

• THE NEW FOOTBALL RULING which states that athletes may not receive any more benefits than any other student in the same institution will really drive some of the football coaches mad thinking of loop-holes. The easiest way to get around it is to get jobs for the athletes. In the future I can see where there are going to be a great many high-priced jobs open around Universities, and the funny coincidence about it all is that these positions will be filled by . . . you guessed it.

Zahnmen Dropped From Win Ranks By State, 67-45

By LARRY GOCHBERG

• AFTER BEING soundly whipped by North Carolina State, the Colonials bounced back to take two successive games against Virginia and Clemson which leaves them with the healthy record of 11 wins and 1 defeat.

The University of Virginia failed to shake the Buff jinx as they dropped their fourth straight encounter in the two years they have been playing the Colonials by a 61 to 55 count. This despite the fact that the Zahnmen blew a 12 point lead in the second half giving the Cavaliers a one point edge which they held for a scant minute.

The Colonials were not to be denied, however, and "Bus" Halthcock came right back with a hook shot from the right hand corner that brought the rooters to their feet.

Len Small barraged the basket with a series of set shots and driving lay-ups to pace the Colonial attack with 17 points, exactly the number he piled up against Navy last year.

In their wildest scoring game of the present campaign, the Colonials ran up 79 tallies while the Clemson Tigers produced 67. The Colonial defense, which up to last Friday's game had been a very tight one seemed to have suffered a temporary lapse as the Tigers ran up the identical score by which North Carolina State had won.

Bill Cantwell turned in an impressive exhibition as he took high scorer honors with 19 points. Halthcock shared scoring honors by running up 15 points, seven of these being consecutive foul shots. Reaching back to January 5, North Carolina State lived up to its nickname "Wolfpack" when they tore the Colonial winning streak of nine games apart by a 67-45 lacing.

There are numerous angles and excuses that go along with the State fiasco, but after a week's calm hindsight they narrow down to three important factors. First, is that N. C. State is a very powerful team. Second, the Colonials were definitely not at their best. Third, is the fact that the officials' interpretation of Southern Conference rulings did not seem to resemble even a close approximation of them. Offensive charging, picks, blocking, and numerous other infractions were only called spasmodically.

Summing it all up were the opinions voiced by the team themselves and Coach Arthur Zahn to the effect that State has a good team, but that we should have been much closer than the 22 point margin showed.

It is entirely probable that the Colonials will again meet the "Wolfpack" in the Southern Conference Tourney, and the Boys would like nothing better than another crack at beating them.

BULLETIN

• APPROXIMATELY 4,000 spectators saw the Colonial hoopmen drop their second game of the season to a rapidly improving Georgetown quintet, 51-43, last night at the National Guard Armory.

Navy, Seton Hall Featured Games In Weeks Ahead

By IRA KALFUS

• COLONIAL Basketball players are winging into the meat of their schedule, and these next few weeks it will be full steam ahead. Sitting on a comfortable perch in the Southern Conference, the Buffmen will now start to taste inter-sectional competition.

Starting off with Southern Conference opposition, the high flying Colonials enroute for Durham, North Carolina, to do battle with the Duke Blue Devils.

The Dukemen have not hit their expected stride and that spells trouble. Their Conference record is not too enviable and a victory over the highly ranked Colonials would please them no end.

In a recent trip through the East, they bowed to a highscoring and undefeated New York University. A few nights later they dropped a tough decision, 58-54, to the Temple Owls. Considering Temple's one point victory over mighty Kentucky, there was no prestige lost there.

Following the Duke clash, the Buffmen are back in D. C. to face South Carolina's Gamecocks at National Guard Armory, Saturday night, 8:45 p.m. The defeat hung on the Carolinians earlier in the season was no indication of the ferocity of the action. During the first half we fast-broke into a 34-16 lead, however after the intermission the Gamecocks caught fire and in a sizzling comeback, trailed by only six points with five minutes remaining. The Colonials, held on, and escaped with the exciting win. Let by 6' 7" Al Adams, the Gamecocks should supply the Zahnmen with an interesting evening.

After a week layoff the Colonials return to the scene for their first big inter-sectional test, opposing Navy. The boys from Annapolis recently lost their first game in three tries to a mediocre Villanova quintet, 61-39. However, the Middies own a potentially good ball club, (See MIDDIES, page 14)

Colonial "B" Hoop Team Drops First

• MARRING THE DEBUT of the newly organized Jayvee Basketball squad, the Y.M.C.A. five handed the Colonials their initial loss of the season, 43-35, last Saturday night at the Y.M.C.A.

With the official recognition of a University "B" basketball squad, has also come a 13 game schedule extending until Feb. 25.

Four of the games listed on the schedule will be held as preliminary games to the varsity contests. Despite their first loss, the team is confident that it will be able to produce with sufficient practice.

The team is composed of men who are just below varsity caliber, and is therefore an excellent "proving ground" for all men wishing to play varsity basketball in the future.

The formation of this squad should also be added incentive to those University men who would like to play varsity basketball, as it is more than likely that good prospects will be regarded closely by the athletic department.

At the present time, the team is being coached by John Poston, a phys. ed. major who has coached a number of amateur teams around the District with very praiseworthy results.

Games which have been scheduled are as follows: Jan. 14, Capitol Radio Engineering Inst., Y.M.C.A., 5:30 p.m.; Jan. 16, Devilt, Kensington Army, 3:30 p.m.; Jan. 17, Hq. USAAF, 7:00 p.m.; Jan. 24, Bullis Prep, 7:00 p.m.; Feb. 3, Devilt at Kensington Army, 3:30 p.m.; Feb. 6, Woodward Prep, Y.M.C.A., 7:30 p.m.; Feb. 10, Maryland "B", 7:00 p.m.; Feb. 11, Bullis Prep at Bullis, 3:45 p.m.; Feb. 16, Maryland "B" at Maryland, 7:00 p.m.; Feb. 20, Woodward Prep at Y.M.C.A., 3:30 p.m.; Feb. 21, Montana Jr. Coll., 7:00 p.m.; Feb. 25, Military Dist. of Washington, Ft. ## How's About Another Crack At The One On The Fence?

Cantwell Leading Individual Scorers With 11.4 Average

• AT THE Half-way mark of the 47-48 basketball season, Bill Cantwell seems to be again on his way toward capturing the team high scoring honors having built up an average of 11.4 points per game.

However, Freshman John Moffatt is not too far off the pace and will more than likely boost his present 8.7 point average up considerably.

The most significant fact that the statistics reveal is that the Colonials are a well balanced scoring team.

Out of twelve games played Cantwell has been high scorer four times and tied for it once with Phil McNiff. John Moffatt has held the title four times, Len Small twice, and Art Cerra once.

University Swim Team Opens Tank Schedule With V.M.I. Saturday

• ENGAGING IN its first post-war meet against a Southern Conference rival, the University swimming team will meet V. M. I. this Saturday, Jan. 17 at the Ambassador Hotel pool at 7:45 p.m.

Very little is known about the strength of the visiting swimmers who are coached by Ken Runquist, as they have just returned to intercollegiate competition.

However, they have been noted for turning out many top-notch teams in the past.

As for the Buffmen, Colonial coach Elmer Hipsley refuses to venture any opinion as to the possible outcome of the meeting.

The Colonials are young and inexperienced. They will have a tough race on their hands and are rated as underdogs. Spirit is high however, and a good fight is predicted.

In dual meets such as this one there are nine events which take place in the following order: 300 yard medley relay; 220 yard free style; 50 yard free style; diving; 100 yard free style; 150 yard back stroke; 220 yard breast stroke; 440 yard free style and 400 yard relay.

The scoring in all events except the 300 yard medley relay and the 400 yard relay is five points for first place, three points for second and one for third. In the medley and 440 yard relays the winner gets five and seven points respectively, while the loser gets none.

The Ambassador pool is located on 14 and K Streets. All students are welcome to see the team in action and will be admitted upon the presentation of their activities booklet.

Witkin To Become Eligible Next Month

• ANOTHER BOY from Brooklyn will join the University basketball team as soon as he gains eligibility in February.

Eugene "Arco" Witkin, a transfer student from L. I. U. will be one of the smallest men on the squad at 5' 8". In pre-season practice he has shaped up as a fine ball-handler and good play-maker.

"Arco", a graduate of Thomas Jefferson High School, has promise of becoming a good college ball-player during his next four years at George Washington.

Buff Sharpshooters Meet Navy Jan. 24

• UNIVERSITY RIFLEMEN are intensifying practice sessions before their coming meet with Navy which is to be held on Jan. 24.

Little is known about this year's Colonial squad except for the fact that it still needs members.

Last year's team dropped its match to Navy, the final score being 1377-1333.

Independent Hoop Finals Thursday

Playoffs In Ping Pong, Volleyball This Week

• THURSDAY EVENING at the gym, the finals in both the volleyball and ping pong tournaments will be held.

At 8:00 p.m. tonight, the volleyball semi-finals will be run off with the Eight O'Clocks meeting the School of Pharmacy to decide who will meet the KA's in the finals on Thursday.

This series will culminate a single elimination tourney which has been full of excellent competition and fight.

In the other half of the gym on Thursday night at 9:00 o'clock the ping pong finals will be played off.

The semi-finalists are Orville Bennington who will play Farrell, the winner of this match playing the winner of the match between Hal Green and Summers.

Klepak and Garrigan will play off to determine who will play the ultimate winner of the above bracket. The winner of the entire bracket will play Norm Dancy who has finished victorious in his bracket, beating Pappas (21-11), (21-13), (21-7).

Norm Dancy, who won last year's all-University ping pong tournament, is considered one of the best players in the District, and if Hal Green, who many people rate as the sixth best player in the country, should win his games, a top-notch final game is sure to be in the offing.

Green was unable to compete fully in last year's tourney due to the fact that he was scheduled to play in the nationals which conflicted with the University contest.

The consolation basketball ball games in the Intramural tourney will be played Wednesday evening at 7:00 o'clock in the gym. Students who are interested in getting an all-round sporting evening are encouraged to be at the gym on Thursday evening when the volleyball finals, ping pong playoffs, and basketball tourney will be held.

Action will begin at 8:00 p.m. and will proceed until all the games have been played off.

Police Recover Stolen Suburban

• PHILADELPHIA police recovered the Athletic Department's blue DeSoto Suburban automobile yesterday which was stolen last week from Coach Arthur "Otis" Zahn while he was on a trip to that city. Zahn notified police after finding it stolen from his parking place.

Events Postponed

• DUE TO THE crowded facilities of the gym, Wrestling, Boxing, Trampoline, Weight-Lifting, and Fencing intramurals have been postponed until next semester when it is hoped that tournaments will be run off in each of these events.

Middies

V. P. I. and William and Mary are the Colonials next two foes and both these schools are fielding hot and cold squads. Playing these Conference foes on the road, anything can happen, and the Colonials cannot afford to loaf.

On February 4, comes the big clash with a hot Seton Hall crew. The Pirates, at this writing, possess the identical 11 and 1 record as the Colonials. Outside of 6'9" Harry Renner, the Hall does not own a big club, but they stress speed and ball-handling, featuring one of the slickest players in the nation in Frank "Pep" Saul. Also, just available for action in the new term, is Tom Lavette, former West Virginia star, whom the Setonians anxiously await.

Eastern Bombers Encounter Powerful Yankee Quintet

By HERB SCHNIPPER

• OUT OF A RECORD field of 27 squads, two teams have emerged to gain entry into the 1947-48 Independent intramural basketball finals. Thursday night the Eastern Bombers will meet the highly touted Yankee quintet on the gym court for the crown.

The Yankees, after an early season loss to Bradley Hall, have since compiled an impressive record of wins against good league competition. Eliminating the same Bradley representatives by a 38-34 score in the first game of the playoffs last week, the Yanks went on to top a strong Navy "A" contender on Sunday.

Navy "A" took the floor with a 6-0 record but could not contend with the Yankees "big three," Shipman, Dredge, and Leisher. The varsity gridders compiled 46 points among them as they led the Yankees to a decisive 52-34 victory. Harvey Shipman was once again outstanding as he tallied 20 points for individual honors.

Navy's sparkplug, Rock, was effectively bottled up, managing to sink one basket, although Elliott led the losers with 15.

The Eastern Bombers have a record very similar to their co-finalists, the Yanks. After suffering a mid-season one-point loss to the Shiner, they came back to beat them in the playoffs. Employing but five men throughout, the Bombers took a 28-21 victory in the preliminary at the Armory on Wednesday.

Continuing their brilliant comeback, the Eastern squad upset the strongly favored Ramblers, 36-22, in the semi-finals.

The championship game on Wednesday will match the height of the Yankees against the speed and spirit of the Eastern Bombers. The Bombers will be faced with the difficult assignment of stopping the scoring of six-footers Shipman, Merle Leisher, Talbot Dredge, and Johnny Grinnell, while the Yank's task will be to throttle the Bombers' scoring ace Frank Tevelow, and the fast play of regulars Bill Umholz, Hank Bates, Chick "Whistler" Sheff, and Ira Kallus reliable back-court star of the Kahonksen League in New York.

Why I'm an Air Force Pilot

"I guess it began when I was just a kid, making non-stop flights around the dining-room table. Later on, the town got an airport. I got to know every plane, right down to the smallest bolts and screws.

"During the war I took off with the Aviation Cadets. The folks were all for it. They figured—correctly—that it was the best way to get me into the air where I belonged.

"I made it all right. Trained in the best planes the Air Force has, and now I'm heading for transition work in jets. The pay? Now that I'm a pilot, $336 a month, plus $500 for each year of active duty. And there's plenty of room for promotions.

"But that's not the real point. Some men belong in the air. They were born wanting wings—with the action, the pride, the freedom that go with them. There's no better way to have all that, along with the world's finest flying training, than to join the Aviation Cadets. And the future—in civilian aviation or in the Air Force—is as wide open as the horizon. If you want the fast-moving life, why not drop around to the Recruiting Station in your community or the nearest Air Force installation."

Terror From Flatbush McNiff Is The Handle

By IRA KALFUS

• A CRACKER-JACK ball hawk and a boy who really likes to win 'em is George Washington's Phil McNiff. Phil usually gets the job of guarding the opposition's top scorer, and this is pretty much of a tip-off on McNiff's defensive ability.

He is not a big point getter but seems to flip in his baskets at the most opportune times. He's a smart ball player, really knows the game and is adept at meeting the tougher situations.

Phil played high school ball in New York's tough Catholic league. He captained St. Michael's for two years and was acclaimed All City for two successive semesters. One of three McNiffs, he has a younger brother Tom, and a sister answering to the name of Veronica. Brother Tom also likes to make with the basketball, and is an important cog with St. Francis University of Brooklyn, which plays several games in Madison Square Garden.

After high school it was "Anchors Aweigh" and, while up in Newport, R. I., he played service ball. It was here that Phil first met George Washington teammate Maynard Hiltcock — but at that time they were both shooting for different baskets.

George Garber, former Colonial athlete, spotted Phil, notified coach Art Zahn, a few letters here and there, and McNiff was DC bound.

He was a great help to the 1946-47 Colonial basketball squad, and this year has again answered the call, continuing to play heads-up ball. You've got to drive to win the Southern Conference tournament, and after that maybe a trip to New York's Garden. Phil would sort of chuckle, when for a change, he hands out the passes to the McNiff family.

PHIL MCNIFF

N. C., N. C. State Top Conference

• DISPLAYING UNCANNY shooting ability, smoothness and finesse, the North Carolina State hoopmen are undefeated after the first month of conference play. Last year's champions have won three conference games and possess an overall record of 12-2. They have lost only to the unbeaten West Virginia quintet, and to the NCAA champions Holy Cross. The Wolfpack are sparked by sophomore Dick Dickey, who along with Jack Mc-

Comas, Warren Carter, Leo Katskavak and Ed Bartels, form one of the strongest quintets in the country.

The only other unbeaten team is the North Carolina Tarheels who have yet to play major opposition. The high-flying Tarheels are paced by "Hooks" Dillon, a definite candidate for All-American.

Though the Washington and Lee team has a disappointing slate, freshman center Bob Goldsmith has been a standout. Goldsmith is the Conference individual scoring leader, and recently popped in 27 points against a strong Virginia squad.

Participants Wanted For Next Semester

• ALTHOUGH THE intramural tournaments end this week, Joe Krupa, Director of Intramural Athletics, announces that all students may sign up for participation in next semester's tournaments.

Tournaments to be held will include Boxing and Wrestling, Fencing, Weight Lifting, Trampoline, and many others.

All students interested may sign up at the Intramural office, 2027 H Street.

District Teams Will Sponsor Hoop Tourney

• WITH THE PROPOSED enlargement of seating capacity of the National guard armory from its present capacity of 5000 to approximately 10,000, plans are now under way for the sponsorship of an annual Washington Invitational Basketball Tournament.

Starting in late December, District teams headed by George Washington, Georgetown, and Maryland will play host to the cream of the nation's basketball crop.

Fans will have an opportunity to view such outstanding squads as Kentucky, New York University, West Virginia, Holy Cross, North Carolina State and C.C.N.Y.

Special Athletic Tests Aid University Students

By GERRY LESSUK

• FOR THE PAST DECADE, the University's Physical Education department, aided by the guidance of Mr. Bill Meyers, has developed a program designed to strengthen the bodies of the students who are placed under their jurisdiction.

A physical efficiency test has been tried and developed over a number of years. The effort has resulted in a six-event system that taxes the strength, agility, coordination, and muscular development of the individual. Each test has a separate purpose and measures the efficiency of a certain part of the body.

After all the events have been taken by the student under examination, the scores are computed as a whole and a qualitative average is produced. Then, in possession of these facts, Mr. Ray Hanken, whose job it is to supervise the conditioning process, can map out a program that will elevate the over-all physical condition of the examinee. As an added measure a group of specialized exercises are given to those students who are lacking sufficient muscular development in a certain part of the physique.

The actual content of the test can be enumerated as follows: The 240-yard dodging run which is an endurance event; sit-ups which test the strength of the abdominal muscles; the standing broad jump wherein leg power must be utilized; the medicine ball event that tests the strength of the arms; a two-hand ball dribble against a wall that stresses arm-eye coordination, and over-hand chin or pull-ups which is an all-out effort that tests the pulling power of the upper half of the body, particularly the shoulder muscles.

In commenting upon the over-all physical condition of the American youth, Meyers stated that the nature of their physical activity has led to a rather curious bodily development. He further qualified by remarking that because the bulk of their physical activity and interest has been along social lines that stress team play, the development of certain parts of the body has been neglected.

Meyers has found that the legs are the most developed organs, while the upper part of the body, particularly the shoulders, are, in a great many cases, decidedly underdeveloped. This is credited to the social factor prevalent in our system of physical activity.

The importance of the physical efficiency test and the program of supervised activity that follows it lies in the fact that it can be used to determine and correct certain physical deficiency.

Cause for American Pride

Now more and more years ago our fathers brought forth, upon this continent, a new nation, conceived in liberty, and dedicated to the proposition that all men are created equal.

Now we are engaged in a great civil war, testing whether that nation, or any nation, so conceived, and so dedicated, can long endure. We are met here on a great battle-field of that war. We have come to dedicate a portion of it as the final rest, a fitting place for those who here gave their lives that that nation might live. It is altogether fitting and proper that we should do this.

But in a larger sense we can not dedicate—we can not consecrate—we can not hallow this ground. The brave men, living and dead, who struggled here, have consecrated it, far above our poor power to add or detract.

Vets May Go Abroad To Study

• WORLD WAR II veterans deciding to study overseas may be able to qualify for benefits under the Fulbright Act and the GI Bill at the same time, Veterans Administration ruled.

The ruling held that payment of education and training benefits under the GI Bill may be made to student-veterans regardless of any grants made them under the Fulbright Act, since the funds used to administer the Fulbright Act by the Department of State were not secured from United States Government appropriations.

May Study Under Both

As a result, World War II veterans qualifying for foreign study under both laws may receive benefits allowed them under the Fulbright Act as supplemental to the benefits provided them by the GI Bill, VA said.

Under the Servicemen's Readjustment Act (GI Bill), World War II veterans may study in a VA-approved foreign educational institution under the same provisions that apply to study in a college or university in the United States.

VA Will Pay

VA will pay customary tuition charges and fees, provide the books and equipment needed to complete the course satisfactorily, and pay monthly subsistence allowances of $65 to veterans without dependents or $90 to veterans with dependents. The veterans must arrange for their own passports, visas, transportation overseas, and admission to the institution they select.

The Fulbright Act (Public Law 584, 79th Congress) provides for grants-in-aid to American students for study abroad or to foreign students for study in this country. It authorizes the Department of State to enter into agreements with foreign governments to use foreign currencies and credits, acquired through the sale of surplus property abroad, to defray the costs of the program.

Foreign Students Benefit

Financial aid may be provided for United States citizens studying in schools of foreign countries in which credit is acquired. This assistance may include payment with foreign currencies for transportation, tuition, maintenance and other expenses incidental to scholastic activity. Citizens of participating foreign countries may receive travel grants to the United States for study.

The Fulbright Act also provides the veterans of World War I and II be given preference by the 10-man Board of Foreign Scholarships which awards the study grants.

It is hoped that a limited number of grants will be made under the Fulbright Act for the academic year 1948-49. Applications are not being received at this time, but persons desiring information on the program may obtain it from the Division of International Exchange of Persons, Department of State, Washington 25, D.
